ELLSWORTH SCHOOL PROVES ITS EFFICIENCY

All Students Who Applied Passed Recent Examinations

COURSE RECOMMENDED

Mine Inspectors Aided in Work---Prof. E. E. Bach One of the Backers

Every member of the Ellsworth School in Mining class who presented himself for examinations at the sessions of the State Examining board conducted in May passed for the certificate of competency. This was a distinct compliment to the backers of the school, among whom was E. E. Bach, sociological superintendent of the Ellsworth Collieries company. The list of those passing is as follows:

First grade mine foreman's certificate—Charles H. Davis and Patrick J. Cullen.

Fire boss certificates—Robert Murray, Ammi Boyer and Fred Gullick.

The earning power per year of these men has been raised $1,332. Each man has increased his earning capacity over his former position $266 per annum.

The work of this class was based upon the course recommended to Mr. Bach by a committee of state mine inspectors, Alex McCanch and Jno. F. Bell of Monongahela; F. W. Cunningham of Charleroi and W. H. Howarth of Brownsville.

The work consisted of a basic course adapted to the needs of the miner in English, reading, writing and arithmetic. The English, reading and writing were based upon the state mining law while the arithmetic consisted of the solution of practical problems in mining, including the computation of yardage, cubical contents, tonnage, mining forms, etc.

The technical part of the course covered the subjects of mine gases, safety lamps, blasting, mine ventilation, timber, electricity, haulage, mechanics, and practical and economical methods of developing and operating coal mines.

The day of hap-hazard preparation for State Examinations is believed to be past and it is fair to suppose that the requirements will be more exacting each year. During the coming year it is the purpose of Mr. Bach to arrange the course upon a unit basis in order that persons who feel themselves prepared to do some of the work without further preparation may enter the class at the time when the particular subjects desired are being taught. In this way there will be no disturbance of the class by persons entering at any time.

M. B. Cooper, Ph. B., E. M., a graduate of the Sheffield Technical School had charge of this class at Ellsworth and did very efficient work as the results show. A large class has already expressed its desire to take up the work for the coming year.

Marriage Licenses.

In Pittsburg Monday a marriage license was granted to Miss Corrine E. Gleason and Clyde A. Harris both of Charleroi. A license was also granted to Miss Clara Ridgeway and Charles B. Anderson of Allenport.

Not a Place for Sane Man

Inspectors Find Mine at Monongahela Too Gaseous Even for Safety Lights

Mine Inspector Alexander McCanch, accompanied by Inspectors James Bell and James Maize, visited the abandoned mine in Park avenue, Monongahela where Frank Iannan, an Italian boy aged 18 years, was killed a few days ago and found it so gaseous it was not safe to enter with safety lamps. Inspector McCanch reported to Coroner James Heffran and the corner decided to hold the inquest into the young Italian's death on Thursday evening.

STORE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Bentleyville Conflagration Results in Heavy Loss

CHURCH PARTLY BURNS

The clothing store of George Assad a Syrian was totally destroyed by fire at Bentleyville Monday while the residence of J. W. Piersol and the Presbyterian church were damaged to the extent of $300 each. The building in which was the store occupied by Assad was owned by Mr Piersol. The W.J. Marshall plumbing shop in the basement of the building was destroyed entailing a loss of $700 with no insurance.

Assad estimates his loss at $5,000 with $3,500 insurance. The Piersol residence and the church were insured.

Tony Shacosky was walking past the store of Assad and noticed a fire burning in the rear of the building. He hastened to the residence of Assad only a few feet away and found Assad dressed but it was some time before he could get his attention attracted to the fire. The warning was sounded and church bells were rung and a crowd of 500 collected within a few minutes and a bucket brigade was formed to save the adjoining buildings. Both the church and the Piersol residence were on fire several times and badly damaged. It was with much difficulty that the bucket brigade saved the two adjoining structutres.

The clothing store was located in a small frame building 22 by 30 feet which was recently erected by Mr. Piersol. The building was valued at about $1,500.

Owing to the Employees' Annual Picnic Berryman's Store will close Thursday, June 19th at 4:30 p. m 277-t3

CALIFORNIA NIGHT SCHOOL HELPED SOME

Large Number From Normal Town Who Passed Examinations for Miners Were Educated in Work Through Special Arrangements

The success of California applicants in the mine foremen and fire boss examinations recently held at Charleroi for the twenty-first bituminous district was largely due to a night mining school conducted there during the last few months. The school was in reality a branch of the University of Pittsburg Mining school, and a University of Pittsburg instructor lent his efforts towards the success of the school.

Examinations for mine foremen and fire bosses were conducted the fore part of May, and California was the best represented place in the whole district. The written examinations were given first of course, and Californians came through swimmingly. Their oral examination is to be given at California on Thursday, June 26.

For mine foremen certificates there were seven Californians in the class that passed the written examination, and for assistant mine foreman, there were five passed from the normal town. A whole string, to be exact, 17 passed the required written test for fire boss.

Much attention at the California school was given to practical mining and it was a fact that the questions asked of this year's class were especially practical.

MONESSEN LADY ELKS TO PICNIC

Eldora Park to be Scene of Gathering Tomorrow---"500" Contest Booked

With elaborate plans laid to make the event a brilliant function, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Monessen Lodge of Elks, will entertain at Eldora Park Wednesday of this week at their first annual outing. It is expected that women will attend from all along the Monongahela valley.

During the afternoon "500" will be played at the dancing pavilion and a feature will be a "500" contest. The committees from the Monessen auxiliary will look after the various matters of entertainment. In the evening dancing will be a feature.

On Thursday the parochial schools of Donora and Monongahela will hold an outing, with a dance by the Char-Mon club the same evening. Also on the same date the annual outing of the store employes of J. W. Berryman and Son of Charleroi will be held at the park.

RAPID SALE TODAY AT THE CURB MARKET

It required but a very short time this morning for the products brought to the curb market at Sixth street to be sold out. This was the second morning of the curb market. There were hardly as many provisions on hand as there had been on the first day, Saturday, but the selling was entirely as rapid. There seemed to be a demand for strawberries and these were sold out quickly.

DIED AT MONON. AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Agnes McVicker aged about 78 years of Monongahelt is dead after an extended illness. She was the mother of John and Alex. McVicker who are well known along the Monongahela valley. Six sons and three daughters survive.

PREPARING FOR BIG LOT SALE

Lock View Terrace Now Cut Into Beautiful Building Locations

Active preparations are in progress for the big lot sale at Lock View Terrace, North Charleroi, Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21. Since this plan of lots has been opened to the market it has been attracting much attention. A large number of lots were disposed of at the opening sale last fall, and since that time a number have been disposed of at private sale. These lots are particularly attractive for homes for working people, as the plan is located midway, practically, to all the big industrial centers of the valley. A workingman who has a home at Lock View Terrace is handy to a job in Charleroi, North Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela, Donora, or to any of the large adjacent coal mines of this section. The particular advantage of the location is that a family does not have to move if the wage earners have to change their jobs.

Some special inducements are offered in connection with the sale. A free lot and a $65 sewing machine will be given away in a contest that is being arranged while a band of music will enliven the occasion. The management is making every provision for the entertainment and comfort of the people who attend, and a special invitation is extended to the public generally to attend and look over the advantages of the excellent home sites offered.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

Playgrounds Benefit to be Played Tonight at 6 O'clock at Baseball Ground

Tonight at 6 o'clock a baseball team captained by John B. Schafer and one captained by R. O. Vetter will cross bats at the baseball ground as a playgrounds benefit. Many tickets have been sold for the event, and whether there will be any baseball, there will be plenty of fun.

A parade will take place at 5 o'clock. The Charleroi Concert band which has donated its services for the occasion will lead the parade, in an automobile and the various players will follow in autos.

INSTITUTE PROGRAM IS READY

Preparations Under Way for Meeting in Charleroi

INSTRUCTORS ENGAGED

Arrangements for the teachers' institute, to be held by the three towns of Monongahela, Charleroi and Donora in Charleroi, the first week in September, are well under way. At a recent meeting of the various committees appointed to arrange for this institute, the list of speakers for the different days was practically decided upon, and the educators who are expected to appear on the program at that time are:

Dr. Curtis of Olivette, Michigan, said to be the best authority in the country on playgrounds.

Dr. Colestock of Bucknell University, who will have History for his topic.

Dr. Becht of the State Department of Education who will speak along general lines.

Dr. Fess, President of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., who will lecture on Thursday evening of institute week, his subject probably being "The Life of Abraham Lincoln."

From the interest being taken in the undertaking everything points to a most successful institute.

Measure Now Up to Gov. Tener Has Local Bearing

PASSED BY THE SENATE

Other Bills Now Before Chief Executive of State For His Signature

Harrisburg, June 17—A bill that is now up to Governor Tener which may have a great bearing in the municipal politics of Charleroi this fall is the Wasbers bill, which permits burgesses of all the boroughs in the commonwealth to succeed themselves. The measure, which had already passed the senate, passed the house Monday night by a vote of 118 to 25. In the senate it did not have much opposition to speak of.

Should Governor Tener sign this bill it will make Burgess G. W. Risbeck of Charleroi eligible to succeed himself. It is not known whether or not Burgess Risbeck would ze a candidate in case the bill becomes a law, but in view of his good administration his many friends have been watching the bill with much interest and if the governor signs it, it is more than likely that the burgess will be urged to again become a candidate.

Both house and senate have passed by overwhelming majorities the Clark bill making the mayors of third class cities eligible for immediate succession, though a committee discovered Monday night this measure had not reached the executive as it should have. Two weeks ago the last vote was taken on the Geary bill prmitting mayors of second class cities to succeed themselves. It was delayed more than ten days in getting to the Governor's table and was not certified by Speaker Alter until his attention was called to the delinquency by a committee of the Allegheny County delegation. The Governor is required to act on the Geary measure this week.

No action has yet been taken on the important labor and election bills in the senate. Neither has the latter body made a move yet toward fixing the date for adjournment, after having forced the house to set a date. It is stated that the child and women labor bills may be reached today, but there seems to be no assurance that the senate will consent to their consideration at this particular time.

UP TO THE MIDDLE MAN

After the tariff has been revised downward to the fullest extent that the revenue producing qualities will permit, it will be found that prices will not be affected much if any to the consumer. It is the cost of selling and the prices charged by the middle men and the retailers that is responsible for the high prices, and not the excessive cost imposed by the tariff tax, however much advantage this tax may give the manufacturer and the trust in controlling their prices. As a rule the big profits of the trusts are made by a small but regular increase over what might be legitimately charged, and it is the huge volume of trade that makes the enormous profit of the trust.

In the matter of the tariff on wool, the Tariff Board investigating the matter found in a suit of clothes selling for $23 and upwards, the woolgrower got $2.32 for the wool used in making the cloth. The cloth manufacturer got $4.78 for making the cloth. The cost of labor in making the suit was $3.74. Other materials made the entire factory cost of the suit, including materials and labor, $12.41. The difference between $12.41 and $23 represents what it costs to sell the suit, plus the profit, which is almost as much more as the cost of producing the suit.

Government statistics show that the farmers received for their products in 1911 approximately $6,000,000,000, for which consumers paid $13,000,000,000. The railroads received for transporting these products only $95,000,000, so that more than $6,500,000,000 went to pay the middle men and the retailers who sold these products to the consumers.

These are cold facts in the aggregate. The tariff has absolutely nothing to do with the high cost of farm products, which is fixed by the middle men. The farmer does not get it and the consumer pays often several times the price for which the farmer sold the product. It is because people stand for the high prices that are charged without any protest, which are made by the combinations of shippers and produce dealers. So long as women in moderate circumstances will pay $40 for a hat that could not possibly cost more than $12 to produce, or men who draw moderate pay cheerfully put up $6 for a pair of oxford shoes made of split leathe and inside plugging of other material, the prices will be forthcoming.

Any class of dealers can charge any price nowadays for stuff to eat or wear and get away with it. The tariff has absolutely nothing to do directly with the most of the high prices that prevail.

FOR HOME AND STATE.

That women do take an interest in legislation affecting the home and general well-being of society is evidenced by the record of the session of the California legislature just adjourned. Since women have been granted the right of franchise in California the legislature of that state has had a remarkable record in the passage of laws for the welfare of women and children. A few of the most important new laws are:

1. The Health Certificate Law, requiring a certificate of freedom from venereal disease of all persons obtaining marriage licenses.

2. The Joint Guardian Law, giving mothers equal rights with fathers over their minor unmarried children.

3. A law raising the "age of consent" for girls from 16 to 21.

4. The Milk Inspection Law, for strict regulation of dairies.

5. The Milk Inspection Law, for the fathers to help support illegitimate children.

6. An amendment to the Child Labor Law, raising the working age for children from 12 to 15 years.

This notable record shows how women actually do use the power of the ballot for the conservation and the preservation of the home. They do not like the men place the party machine ahead of home comfort and well-being.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

At the banquet of the Veteran Employes Association of the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Turne. Hall last week, Supt. A. G. Mitchell related an incident that came under his observation as an illustration of the importance of efficiency.

"It was my good fortune to once meet Admiral Clark, the heroic naval captain who fought the U. S. battleship Oregon at Santiago, after bringing her east in the monentous voyage around Cape Horn," said Mr. Mitchell. At that time Admiral Clark was making a tour of inspection of the Pittsburg district and I was escorting him in a special car through the Southside yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. On our way, while the car was lying on a siding for a short time, the admiral called my attention to a plank that was filled with spikes lying in a vacant lot with the points of the spikes upward, where a lot of children were playing.

"'My, but that is a dangerous thing,' remarked the admiral, 'it makes me creep to see it.'

"He mentioned it once or twice more, and seemed so worried about it that I finally said:

"'If it will make you feel any easier, admiral, I'll send out and have that plank removed.'

"'I wish you would,' said he, it would certainly make me feel easier to know that that source of danger no longer exists.'

"'Shall I convey to you a vertification that the order has been executed?' I asked.

"'No,' said he 'that is not necessary. I'm used to knowing that when once an order has been given that it will be executed without question.'

"That," said Supt. Mitchell, "was the confidence that he had in the reliability and efficiency of his subordinates."

A humorous story told at the banquet to illustrate the resourcefulness of railroad men, was about a conductor, on an eastern division whose wife was in the habit of having him execute sundry shopping commissions for her when in Philadelphia, the end of his run. One day his wife handed him a triangular sample of cloth, with a request to match it and buy several yards for her at one of the department stores.

The conductor deposited the sample in his vest pocket and promised to execute the commission all right. Arriving at the store he was dismayed to find that he had lost the sample having evidently worked it out of his pocket during his run. But did he fall down on the errand? Not he. Tight pinches every day had taught him resourcefulness. So he described the appearance of the sample as near as he could, and the clerk brought out a number of pieces of goods, until he selected one that looked like the sample as near as he could recollect. Ordering the number of yards, which happily he had remembered, he had the amount cut off and after paying for it said to the clerk:

"Now cut me off a three cornered sample, about so large,' indicating the measurement on his finger. Tucking this carefully in his pocket, and making sure that he would not lose it, he left for home. When the goods was produced his wife exclaimed:

"That does not match the sample I gave you at all."

"Well, we'll just compare it and see," said the conductor confidently, digging the sample from his pocket, where his wife had seen him place it.

"Same thing, you see, my dear," he said triumphantly.

"That's so," said his wife, convinced, "but I could have sworn it was different. However, that will do nicely."

Thus, by a little ingenuity and resourcefulness the conductor preserved the confidence of his wife and got out of the hole besides.

Expectant.

A man slightly under the influence of liquor strolled into the art gallery. He walked about aimlessly for a while and stationed himself in front of a painting of several mermaids half submerged in water. He regarded this picture intently for perhaps a half hour. Then he walked over to an attendant and said: "Shay, ole fellow, what time doesh tide go out, anyway?"

Goes Either Way.

A machine operable from either end, like a street car, has been evolved in England, and it is probable that the first car will make its appearance on London streets in a short time. The car is steerable from either end, and when it is desired to proceed in the reverse direction, it is only necessary for the driver and conductor to change places.

Two Apologies.

An American editor advertises for his missing hat: "The gentleman who inadvertently took our new beaver, and left an inferior article in its stead, will do us infinite kindness by returning ours. He shall receive our warmest thanks and two apologies—an apology for the trouble we have given him, and the apology for a hat he has left us."—London Telegraph.

Banishment Note.

A tested treatment that has been found excellent for ridding a house of beetles and cockroaches is made as follows:—Procure half a pound of Indian meal and half a pound of borax and pound them well together until they are well mixed. Place a handful on paper in convenient places where the beetles will soon find it.

Certain Old School Books.

The state board urges that all old school books be sterilized and tells how it can be done to the damage of the bacteria, but not to the books. We suppose it is right. It is better that children live healthfully than that so time honored an institution as the combination school book and towel survive.—Toledo Blade.

Chickens Lack Originality.

Abby, the littlest girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served. Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the inevitable bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked: "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."

Truly a Mean Man.

"That was the meanest crook I ever ran across," said the police officer in a community where graft prevails. "What has he done?" "He got me to fix up an iron-clad system of 'protection' for him and his gang, and then robbed the savings bank where I put my rake-off."

Compassionable Nature.

"I haven't much objection to you personally," said Mr. Cumrox, "but you know my daughter has been accustomed to every luxury." "Well," replied the confident suitor, "I won't ask her to give up anything on my account. I think I could go along and enjoy luxuries as much as anybody."

Change in Father.

When father drove old Dobbin he sat upon a load and frowned on every chauffeur who wanted half the road, but when father got an auto his feelings seemed to switch, he glared at every horse he met unless it took the ditch.—Ashland Bugle.

Felt Himself Defrauded.

Householder—"I give you my word, three seventy-five is all I have in the house." Burglar—"Well, say! When ye figure me time, an' me tools, how d'ye expect me to make any profit at that rate?"—Life.

Of a Copper Hew.

Here is an essay composed by a boy of nine on Cromwell: "Cromwell was a wicked man, and killed lots of men. He had a nose of copper hew, under which dwelt a truly religious soul."—Christian Life.

Ingenious Excuse.

A teamster charged with overloading his horse was asked how heavy a load he had on his van. "About a ton," he replied, "but it was all light stuff!"

Acquired Information.

"In case you're asked," said the judge, "take it from me that the last letter of the alphabet is 'z.'" "I've learnt something today," remarked the prisoner, gratefully.

Butter to the Rescue.

Many people who live at the expense of others seek to mitigate the bitterness of the bread of charity by spreading it very thick with other people's butter.—The Tattler.

Spoiling Boy's Fun.

The scientist who eradicates the measles germ will not be regarded as a friend by the boy who would rather be an interesting invalid than go to school.

Fortunate Discovery.

Proprietor—"Well, sir, how did you find the beef?" Diner—"Oh, I happened to shift a potato, and—well there it was."

TRAINED IN HOUSEHOLD WORK

German Institution Teaches Girls Domestic Service, and Finds Great Demand for Graduates.

Berlin has an institution, founded about two years ago by a woman. The object of the "Sister School," as it is called, is to train well-educated girls for domestic service. The students are generally daughters of professional men, and the curriculum comprises cookery, housework, the care of children, and needlework. When application is made for the services of a "sister," the matron, or some other woman connected with the school, calls upon the applicant, forms an opinion of the "situation," and arranges terms. Each "sister" must be allowed a free afternoon every week, one Sunday every other week from four o'clock, and a fortnight's holiday in the year. Six weeks' notice is required on each part. The salaries paid range from $7.50 to $12.50 a month, with, of course, board and lodging. Sisters wear a brown uniform, are treated as social equals, are not required to take meals with other servants, and are addressed as "Sister Marie," "Sister Hedwig," etc. The demand for their services is so great that the head of the Sister school declares that she could place 500 girls a year, instead of 50, and similar institutions are about to be established in other German towns.

MAKE WAREHOUSE OF CHURCH

Sacred Edifice at Brighton, England, Has Been Unfortunate Since Its Erection.

To serve as a cold storage warehouse for meat and eggs—such is the fate of the beautiful Church of the Resurrection at Brighton, England. Built at the expense of the late Rev. H. D. Wagner for the accommodation, it is said, of the poorer members of the congregation, and for those who preferred a ritual simpler than that of St. Paul's church on West street, this building first attracted the public attention as the subject of a curious lawsuit. Mr. Wagner planned to build a remarkably tall church, and the owners of the adjoining property, by means of a lawsuit, prevented him from so doing. Accordingly he caused deep excavations to be made, and thus secured the desired internal height. The Church of the Resurrection proved to be a great expense and was closed in 1908, being, in the opinion of the present vicar of St. Paul's, no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was built. In 1909, after prolonged opposition on the part of Rev. E. F. B. Weber, one of the trustees, it was sold. Since then it has stood empty and in disrepair, until the grotesque tragedy of its present usage occurred.—The Churchman.

Tons of Iron Lost in Rust.

One large railroad system suffers a loss of more than eighteen tons of metal daily, due solely to the effect of rust. Thus far the only known preventive is to keep the metal surface always covered with a suitable paint. Some idea of the costliness of this remedy, however, may be gained from the fact that it requires about $10,000 annually to paint one large railway bridge alone. A typical case of this kind is the Brooklyn bridge, upon which a corps of painters are constantly employed, as the weather makes repainting of one end of this large structure necessary before the workers have reached the other. Although experiments have demonstrated that pure iron surrounded by oxygen does not rust, and that some acid, especialy carbonic acid, is necessary for the production of rust, the secret of manufacturing rustless steel and iran remains to be discovered.

Lasting Joke.

How long will a good joke last? Who can tell? You have heard that one about the good sleighing in Canada, and how by putting on a pair of pajamas and sitting on a cake of ice before an open window and ringing a bell one can get the same effect, and much cheaper. Billy Emerson, the minstrel, originated that one over thirty-five years ago, and it is one that has never run down. DeWolf Hopper began to use it in his curtain speeches eleven years ago, and ever since, eight times a week forty weeks a season, he has used it and it has never failed to get a laugh. Always there are some in the audience who never heard it. Hopper figures that with the addition of a few score times at private functions he has "sprung" the chestnut 8,753 times. It is his one best bet, he says, and expects to use it as long as he is in public life.

$20 Gold Pieces a Quarter Each.

When five boys commenced to sell $10 and $20 gold pieces on the streets of North Scranton for 25 cents each, with the supply apparently unlimited, curiosity was at once aroused as to the source of supply, and the boys were taken into custody and given the "third degree." When searched the youths' pockets produced over $500 in gold coin and when questioned they admitted that they had found a "pot of gold."

The money was buried in a box in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by Peter J. Scanlon, who during his lifetime had the reputation of being a miser. There were $620 in shiny gold pieces in the box. The boys, none of whom was over eight years of age, thought they were brass medals and sold about twenty of them before being arrested.—Scranton (Pa.) Dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

RESTORED INN OF AUERBACH

Tavern Where Goethe Placed One of Scenes in "Faust" Has Been Reconstructed.

The latest concrete evidence of literary devotion in Germany is the thorough reconstruction of the "Tavern of Auerbach," where Goethe placed one of the most vivid scenes of "Faust." It is melancholy to reflect that nothing more remains of the old building, since after a complete demolition the architects have constructed a wholly modern building on the site, but care has been taken to preserve intact the cellar, which has been for fully a century an object of pilgrimage for Germans, who are at once proud of their literature and fond of recherche drinking.

Painters of an "advanced" school have been commissioned to adorn the walls of the various dining rooms with scenes taken from Goethe's great drama, while to complete the new attractions it is announced that the staircase leading down to the cellar will be furnished with two bronze statues, the subject of which is unknown. The evolution of the "Tavern of Auerbach" promises to be the same as that of other like sacred places. It will probably bring in an excellent income to the restaurateur.

ENGLISH WOMEN RUN FARMS

Through Co-Operation Special Provision Is Made for Them in Some Sections.

Seventy-five enthusiastic women farmers met recently at the Criterion restaurant, the occasion being the fifth annual dinner of the Women's International union. Mrs. Wilton Allhusen presided.

Miss Emerson maintained that women have not the same facilities, capital, and so forth, as men.

"The remedy," she said, "lies in co-operation. A company has obtained a farm at Heathfield, in Sussex, and has divided it into small holdings for women farmers. Bungalows are provided for the tenants, whose agreements secure fixity of tenure and who have perfect liberty in developing their land as they like. At the same time they have the benefit of expert advice. The company markets all the produce, and is able to obtain better terms than could the individual tenants."—London Mail.

Ozone as a Preservative.

An important improvement in the technique of cold storage has recently been introduced in Germany, viz., the use of ozone as a supplement to the ordinary process of refrigeration. In the cold storage rooms attached to slaughter houses the temperature of the air is liable to be raised to a serious extent when the doors are left open for any reason; for instance, when meat is being put in or taken out. The micro-organisms of putrefaction immediately become active under such circumstances, and the keeping quality of the meat is diminished. Now it is well known that ozone is a powerful germicide. If the air of the cold-storage rooms is ozonized, its temperature may be raised without injury to the contents. This has been proved by numerous experiments, and ozonizing apparatus has now been installed in the abatoirs at Cologne, Potsdam, Brandenburg, Berlin, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Dusseldorf, Freiburg (Silesia), Aix-la-Chapelle and Erfurt, in a cold storage depot at Hamburg, and in various dairies, poultry and game stores and fish establishments.

To Put Out Oil-Fires.

Two Danish inventors have found a way to put out oil fires by applying carbonic acid that is foaming violently. The foam is produced by a mixture of two liquids, and it is said that when it is thrown on burning substances, such as oils, benzine and tar, it spreads rapidly over the surface and puts out the flames by cutting off the air. Many tanks that contain oil or other highly inflammable liquids are now permanently fitted with perforated pipes, through which the foaming mixture can be applied directly to the surface of the burning material. Hitherto fires in oil tanks have been allowed to burn themselves out or the contents have been drawn out from below and wasted. According to Chambers Journal many private and government institutions have adopted the new system.

He Meant a Wee Nap, Not a Wee Nip.

After Charles Myers, a Mason (Mo.) barber, had finished up the stranger he raised the chair, and his customer's head fell over to one side. The barber straightened him up and shook him a little.

"You were asleep," said Charley.

"So I was—so I was," agreed the gentleman in the chair. "Well, you'll have to come 'round to my place and take one on me."

"I don't drink," returned Charley.

"Neither do I. I'm the new preacher at the First Street church."—New York World.

It Will Save Time.

They took an ocean voyage for their honeymoon. The second day out "dearie" was experiencing the unreliability of an ocean that was guaranteed to be without variableness or shadow of turning and wondering if "hubbie" could by any human effort obtain a position abroad when "hubbie" entered the stateroom.

"It is lunch time, dearie; shall I have yours brought here or will you try to eat it on deck?"

"No, love; have it thrown overboard. It will save time and trouble."

ELLSWORTH SCHOOL PROVES ITS EFFICIENCY

All Students Who Applied Passed Recent Examinations

COURSE RECOMMENDED

Mine Inspectors Aided in Work---Prof. E. E. Bach One of the Backers

Every memoer of the Ellsworth School in Mining class who presented himself for examinations at the sessions of the State Examining board conducted in May passed for the certificate of competency. This was a distinct compliment to the backers of the school, among whom was E. E. Bach, sociological superintendent of the Ellsworth Collieries company. The list of those passing is as follows:

First grade mine foreman's certificate—Charles H. Davis and Patrick J. Cullen.

Fire boss certificates—Robert Murray, Ammi Boyer and Fred Gullick.

The earning power per year of these men has been raised $1,332. Each man has increased his earning capacity over his former position $266 per annum.

The work of this class was based upon the course recommended to Mr. Bach by a committee of state mine inspectors, Alex McCanch and Jno. F. Bell of Monongahela, F. W Cunningham of Charleroi and W. H. Howarth of Brownsville.

The work consisted of a basic course adapted to the needs of the miner in English, reading, writing and arithmetic. The English, reading and writing were based upon the state mining law while the arithmetic consisted of the solution of practical problems in mining, including the computation of yardage, cubical contents, tonnage, mining forms, etc.

The technical part of the course covered the subjects of mine gases, safety lamps, blasting, mine ventilation, timber, electricity, haulage, mechanics, and practical and economical methods of developing and operating coal mines

The day of hap-hazard preparation for State Examinations is believed to be past and it is fair to suppose that the requirements will be more exacting each year. During the coming year it is the purpose of Mr. Bach to arrange the course upon a unit basis in order that persons who feel themselves prepared to do some of the work without further preparation may enter the class at the time when the particular subjects desired are being taught. In this way there will be no disturbance of the class by persons entering at any time.

M. B Cooper, Ph. B., E. M., a graduate of the Sheffield Technical School had charge of this class at Ellsworth and did very efficient work as the results show. A large class has already expresed its desire to take up the work for the coming year.

Marriage Licenses.

In Pittsburg Monday a marriage license was granted to Miss Corrine E. Gleason and Clyde A. Harris both of Charleroi. A license was also granted to Miss Clara Ridgeway and Charles B. Anderson of Allenport.

Inspectors Find Mine at Monongahela Too Gaseous Even for Safety Lights

Mine Inspector Alexander McCanch, accompanied by Inspectors James Bell and James Maize, visited the abandoned mine in Park avenue, Monongahela where Frank Iannan, an Italian boy aged 18 years, was killed a few days ago and found it so gaseous it was not safe to enter with safety lamps. Inspector McCanch reported to Coroner James Heffran and the corner decided to hold the inquest into the young Italian's death on Thursday evening.

STORE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Bentleyville Conflagration Results in Heavy Loss

CHURCH PARTLY BURNS

The clothing store of George Assad a Syrian was totally destroyed by fire at Bentleyville Monday while the residence of J. W. Piersol and the Presbyterian church were damaged to the extent of $300 each. The building in which was the store occupied by Assad was owned by Mr Piersol. The W.J. Marshall plumbing shop in the basement of the building was destroyed entailing a loss of $700 with no insurance.

Assad estimates his loss at $5,000 with $3,500 insurance The Piersol residence and the church were insured.

Tony Shacosky was walking past the store of Assad and noticed a fire burning in the rear of the building. He hastened to the residence of Assad only a few feet away and found Assad dressed but it was some time before he could get his attention attracted to the fire. The warning was sounded and church bells were rung and a crowd of 500 collected within a few minutes and a bucket brigade was formed to save the adjoining buildings. Both the church and the Piersol residence were on fire several times and badly damaged. It was with much difficulty that the bucket brigade saved the two adjoining structutres.

The clothing store was located in a small frame building 22 by 30 feet which was recently erected by Mr Piersol. The building was valued at about $1,500.

Owing to the Employees' Annual Picnic Berryman's Store will close Thursday, June 19th at 4:30 p. m 277-t3

CALIFORNIA NIGHT SCHOOL HELPED SOME

Large Number From Normal Town Who Passed Examinations for Miners Were Educated in Work Through Special Arrangements

The success of California applicants in the mine foremen and fire boss examinations recently held at Charleroi for the twenty-first bituminous district was largely due to a night mining school conducted there during the last few months. The school was in reality a branch of the University of Pittsburg Mining school, and a University of Pittsburg instructor took his duties towards the success of the school.

Examinations for mine foremen and fire bosses were conducted the fore part of May, and California was the best represented place in the whole district. The written examinations were given first of course, and Californians came through swimmingly. Their oral examination is to be June 26.

For mine foremen certificates there were seven Californians in the class that passed the written examination, and for assistant mine foreman, there were five passed from the normal town. A whole string, to be exact, 17 passed the coveted written test for fire boss.

Much attention at the California school was given to practical mining and it was a fact that the questions asked of this year's class were especially practical.

During the afternoon "500" will be played at the dancing pavilion and a feature will be a "500" contest. The committees from the Monessen auxiliary will look after the various matters of entertainment In the evening dancing will be a feature.

On Thursday the parochial schools of Donora and Monongahela will hold an outing, with a dance by the Char-Mon club the same evening. Also on the same date the annual outing of the store employes of J. W Berryman and Son of Charleroi will be held at the park.

RAPID SALE TODAY AT THE CURB MARKET

It required but a very short time this morning for the products brought to the curb market at Sixth street to be sold out. This was the second morning of the curb market. There were hardly as many provisions on hand as there had been on the first day, Saturday, but the selling was entirely as rapid. There seemed to be a demand for strawberries and these were sold out quickly.

PREPARING FOR BIG LOT SALE

Lock View Terrace Now Cut Into Beautiful Building Locations

Active preparations are in progress for the big lot sale at Lock View Terrace, North Charleroi. Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21. Since this plan of lots has been opened to the market it has been attracting much attention. A large number of lots were disposed of at the opening sale last fall, and since that time a number have been disposed of at private sale. These lots are particularly attractive for homes for working people, as the plan is located midway, practically, to all the big industrial centers of the valley. A workingman who has a home at Lock View Terrace is handy to a job in Charleroi, North Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela, Donora, or to any of the large adjacent coal mines of this section. The particular advantage of the location is that a family does not have to move if the wage earners have to change their jobs.

Some special inducements are offered in connection with the sale. A free lot and a $65 sewing machine will be given away in a contest that is being arranged while a band of music will enliven the occasion. The management is making every provision for the entertainment and comfort of the people who attend, and a special invitation is extended to the public generally to attend and look over the advantages of the excellent home sites offered.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

Measure Now Up Gov. Tener Has Local Bearing

PASSED BY THE SENAT

Other Bills Now Before Ch Executive of State For Hi Signature

Harrisburg, June 17—A bill [illegible] is now up to Governor Tener which may have a direct bearing in municipal politics of Charleroi. It is the Wagners bill, which permits burgesses of all the boroughs in the commonwealth to succeed themselves. The measure, which had already passed the senate, passed the house Monday night by a vote of 118 to 25. The senate did not have much opposition to speak of.

Should Governor Tener sign the bill it will make Burgess G. W. Rebeck of Charleroi eligible to succeed himself. It is not known whether or not Burgess Rebeck would be a candidate in case he becomes eligible but in view of his good administration his many friends have been watching the bill with much interest and if the governor signs it, it is more than likely that the burgess will be urged to again become a candidate.

Both house and senate have passed by overwhelming majorities the Clark bill making the mayors of third class cities eligible for immediate succession, though a committee discovered Monday night this measure had not reached the executive as it should have. Two weeks ago the last action was taken on the Geary bill permitting mayors of second class cities to succeed themselves It was delayed more than ten days in getting to the Governor's table and was not certified by Speaker Alter until his attention was called to the delinquency by a committee of the Allegheny County delegation. The Governor is required to act on the Geary measure this week.

No action has yet been taken on the important labor and election bills in the senate. Neither has the latter body made a move yet toward setting the date for adjournment, after having forced the house to set a date. It is stated that the child and women labor bills may be reached today, but there seems to be no assurance that the senate will consent to their consideration at this particular time.

UP TO THE MIDDLE MAN

After the tariff has been revised downward to the fullest extent that the revenue producing qualities will permit, it will be found that prices will not be affected much if any to the consumer. It is the cost of selling and the prices charged by the middle men and the retailers that is responsible for the high prices, and not the excessive cost imposed by the tariff tax, however much advantage this tax may give the manufacturer and the trust in controlling their prices. As a rule the big profits of the trusts are made by a small but regular increase over what might be legitimately charged, and it is the huge volume of trade that makes the enormous profit of the trust.

In the matter of the tariff on wool, the Tariff Board investigating the matter found in a suit of clothes selling for $28 and upwards, the woolgrower got $2.32 for the wool used in making the cloth. The cloth manufacturer got $4.78 for making the cloth. The cost of labor in making the suit was $3.74. Other materials made the entire factory cost of the suit, including materials and labor, $12.41. The difference between $12.41 and $28 represents what it costs to sell the suit, plus the profit, which is almost as much more as the cost of producing the suit.

Government statistics show that the farmers received for their products in 1911 approximately $6,000,000,000, for which consumers paid $13,000,000,000. The railroads received for transporting these products only $95,000,000, so that more than $6,500,000,000 went to pay the middle men and the retailers who sold these products to the consumers.

These are cold facts in the aggregate. The tariff has absolutely nothing to do with the high cost of farm products, which is fixed by the middle men. The farmer does not get it and the consumer pays often several times the price for which the farmer sold the product. It is because people stand for the high prices that are charged without any protest, which are made by the combinations of shippers and produce dealers. So long as women in moderate circumstances will pay $40 for a hat that could not possibly cost more than $12 to produce, or men who draw moderate pay cheerfully put up $6 for a pair of oxford shoes made of split leathe and inside plugging of other material, the prices will be forthcoming.

Any class of dealers can charge any price nowadays for stuff to eat or wear and get away with it. The tariff has absolutely nothing to do directly with the most of the high prices that prevail.

FOR HOME AND STATE.

That women do take an interest in legislation affecting the home and general well-being of society is evidenced by the record of the session of the California legislature just adjourned. Since women have been granted the right of franchise in California the legislature of that state has had a remarkable record in the passage of laws for the welfare of women and children. A few of the most important new laws are:

1. The Health Certificate Law, requiring a certificate of freedom from venereal disease of all persons obtaining marriage licenses.

2. The Joint Guardian Law, giving mothers equal rights with fathers over their minor unmarried children.

3. A law raising the age of consent for girls from 16 to 21.

4. The Milk Inspection Law, for strict regulation of dairies.

4. The Milk Inspection Law, for the fathers to help support illegitimate children.

6. An amendment to the Child Labor Law, raising the working age for children from 12 to 15 years.

This notable record shows how women actually do use the power of the ballot for the conservation and the preservation of the home. They do not like the men place the party machine ahead of home comforts and well-being.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

At the banquet of the Veteran Employes Association of the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Turner Hall last week, Supt A. G. Mitchell related an incident that came under his observation as an illustration of the importance of efficiency.

"It was my good fortune to once meet Admiral Clark the heroic naval captain who fought the U. S. battleship Oregon at Santiago, after bringing her east on the momentous voyage around Cape Horn," said Mr. Mitchell. "At that time Admiral Clark was making a tour of inspection of the Pittsburg district and I was escorting him in a special car through the Southside yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. On our way, while the car was lying on a siding for a short time, the admiral called my attention to a plank that was filled with spikes lying in a vacant lot with the points of the spikes upward, where a lot of children were playing.

"'My, but that is a dangerous thing,' remarked the admiral, 'it makes me weep to see it.'

"He mentioned it once or twice more, and seemed so worried about it that I finally said.

"'If it will make you feel any easier, admiral, I'll send out and have that plank removed.'

"'I wish you would,' said he, 'it would certainly make me feel easier to know that that source of danger no longer exists.'

"'Shall I convey to you a certification that the order has been executed?' I asked.

"'No,' said he, 'that is not necessary. I'm used to knowing that when once an order has been given that it will be executed without question.'

"That," said Supt. Mitchell, "was the confidence that he had in the reliability and efficiency of his subordinates."

A humorous story told at the banquet to illustrate the resourcefulness of railroad men, was about a conductor, on an eastern division whose wife was in the habit of having him execute sundry shopping commissions for her when in Philadelphia, the end of his run. One day his wife handed him a triangular sample of cloth, with a request to match it and buy several yards for her at one of the department stores.

The conductor deposited the sample in his vest pocket and promised to execute the commission all right. Arriving at the store he was dismayed to find that he had lost the sample having evidently worked it out of his pocket during his run. But did he fall down on the errand? Not he. Tight pinches every day had taught him resourcefulness. So he described the appearance of the sample as near as he could, and the clerk brought out a number of pieces of goods, until he selected one that looked like the sample as near as he could recollect. Ordering the number of yards, which happily he had remembered, he had the amount cut off and after paying for it said to the clerk:

"Now cut me off a three cornered sample, about so large,' indicating the measurement on his finger. Tucking this carefully in his pocket, and making sure that he would not lose it, he left for home. When the goods was produced his wife exclaimed:

That does not match the sample I gave you at all."

"Well, well just compare it and see," said the conductor confidently, digging the sample from his pocket, where his wife had seen him place it.

"Same thing, you see, my dear," he said triumphantly.

"That's so," said his wife, convinced, "but I could have sworn it was different. However, that will do nicely."

Thus, by a little ingenuity and resourcefulness the conductor preserved the confidence of his wife and got out of the hole besides.

WAITING ON THE CAR AT THE CURB SURELY HAS ITS DRAWBACKS

Waiting on the curb for the car has its drawbacks, especially for a weary, spifflicated individual. It is worse for two so classified. That is the reason a couple from Monessen found themselves in the police station Monday night. These workmen in Monessen mills came here to celebrate. Both were pretty well dressed and both got pretty well soused. They sat on the curb to await the arrival of a Monessen car and had the misfortune to drop into a deep sleep. Along came the police and garnered them in. Later the burgess assessed nominal fines. The names are not given.

MOVING DAY NOT FOR WIFE ASSERTS THIS ACCUSED MAN

William Cooper of Maple Creek, near Charleroi was before the court Monday on a charge of desertion. He admitted he had left his wife, but said he did so after she had ordered him out of the house. He said he was willing to support his family, but that the trouble was that his wife wanted to run everything. He said she wanted all of his money, said he was not entitled to have a cent and even objected to his chewing tobacco. He told the court he had rented a house at Spears, but she refused to move there. He later rented a house at Donora and she would not move there. According to his story the trouble is all with the wife. They have five children.

The defendant was allowed to go on his own recognizance, to appear in two weeks, when the wife will be summoned and the case fully investigated. Cooper is a miner.

W. C. T. U. NIGHT TO BE OBSERVED BY EVANGELIST

Tonight will be W. C. T. U. night at the Monessen tabernacle, where Rev. John Hamilton is holding evangelistic services. Invitations were issued by the Monessen society to Belle Vernon, Donora, Monongahela and Charleroi societies. A Charleroi delegation of W. C. T. U. members will leave on the 7 o'clock car for Monessen.

Expectant.

A man slightly under the influence of liquor strolled into the art gallery, wandered about aimlessly for a while and stationed himself in front of a painting of several mermaids half submerged in water. He regarded this picture intently for perhaps a half hour. Then he walked over to an attendant and said: "Shay, ole fellow, what time doesh tide go out, anyway?"

Goes Either Way.

A machine operable from either end, like a street car, has been evolved in England, and it is probable that the first car will make its appearance on London streets in a short time. The bus is steerable from either end, and when it is desired to proceed in the reverse direction, it is only necessary for the driver and conductor to change places.

Two Apologies.

An American editor advertises for his missing hat: "The gentleman who inadvertently took our new beaver, and left an inferior article in its stead, will do us infinite kindness by returning ours. He shall receive our warmest thanks and two apologies—[illegible] given him, and the apology for a hat he has left us."—London Telegraph.

Banishment Note.

A tested treatment that has been found excellent for ridding a house of beetles and cockroaches is made as follows:—Procure half a pound of Indian meal and half a pound of borax and pound them well together until they are well mixed. Place a handful on paper in convenient places where the beetles will soon find it.

Certain Old School Books.

The state board urges that all old school books be sterilized and tells how it can be done to the damage of the bacteria, but not to the books. We suppose it is right. It is better that children live healthfully than that so time honored an institution as the combination school book and towel survive.—Toledo Blade.

Chickens Lack Originality.

Abby, the littlest girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served. Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the inevitable bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked: "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."

Truly a Mean Man.

"That was the meanest crook I ever ran across," said the police officer in a community where graft prevails. "What has he done?" "He got me to fix up an iron-clad system of 'protection' for him and his gang, and then robbed the savings bank where I put my rake-off."

Compassionable Nature.

"I haven't much objection to you personally," said Mr. Cumrox, "but you know my daughter has been accustomed to every luxury." "Well," replied the confident suitor, "I won't ask her to give up anything on my account. I think I could go along and enjoy luxuries as much as anybody."

Change in Father.

When father drove old Dobbin he sat upon a load and frowned on every chauffeur who wanted half the road, but when father got an auto his feelings seemed to switch, he glared at every horse he met unless it took the ditch.—Ashland Bugle.

Felt Himself Defrauded.

Householder—"I give you my word, three seventy-five is all I have in the house." Burglar—"Well, say! When ye figure me time, an' me tools, how d'ye expect me to make any profit at that rate?"—Life.

Of a Copper Hew.

Here is an essay composed by a boy of nine on Cromwell: "Cromwell was a wicked man, and killed lots of men. He had a nose of copper hew, under which dwelt a truly religious soul."—Christian Life.

Ingenious Excuse.

A teamster charged with overloading his horse was asked how heavy a load he had on his van. "About a ton," he replied, "but it was all light stuff!"

Acquired Information.

"In case you're asked," said the judge, "take it from me that the last letter of the alphabet is 'z.'" "I've learnt something today," remarked the prisoner, gratefully.

Butter to the Rescue.

Many people who live at the expense of others seek to mitigate the bitterness of the bread of charity by spreading it very thick with other people's butter.—The Tattler.

Spoiling Boy's Fun.

The scientist who eradicates the measles germ will not be regarded as a friend by the boy who would rather be an interesting invalid than go to school.

Fortunate Discovery.

Proprietor—"Well, sir, how did you find the beef?" Diner—"Oh, I happened to shift a potato, and—well there it was."

TRAINED IN HOUSEHOLD WORK

German Institution Teaches Girls Domestic Service, and Finds Great Demand for Graduates.

Berlin has an institution, founded about two years ago by a woman. The object of the "Sister School," as it is called, is to train well-educated girls for domestic service. The students are generally daughters of professional men, and the curriculum comprises cookery, housework, the care of children, and needlework. When application is made for the services of a "sister," the matron, or some other woman connected with the school, calls upon the applicant, forms an opinion of the "situation," and arranges terms. Each "sister" must be allowed a free afternoon every week, one Sunday every other week from four o'clock, and a fortnight's holiday in the year. Six weeks' notice is required on each part. The salaries paid range from $7.50 to $12.50 a month, with, of course, board and lodging. Sisters wear a brown uniform, are treated as social equals, are not required to take meals with other servants, and are addressed as "Sister Marie," "Sister Hedwig," etc. The demand for their [illegible] the Sister school declares that she could place 500 girls a year, instead of 50, and similar institutions are about to be established in other German towns.

MAKE WAREHOUSE OF CHURCH

Sacred Edifice at Brighton, England, Has Been Unfortunate Since Its Erection.

To serve as a cold storage warehouse for meat and eggs—such is the fate of the beautiful Church of the Resurrection at Brighton, England. Built at the expense of the late Rev. H. D. Wagner for the accommodation, it is said, of the poorer members of the congregation, and for those who preferred a ritual simpler than that of St. Paul's church on West street, this building first attracted the public attention as the subject of a curious lawsuit. Mr. Wagner planned to build a remarkably tall church, and the owners of the adjoining property, by means of a lawsuit, prevented him from so doing. Accordingly he caused deep excavations to be made, and thus secured the desired internal height. The Church of the Resurrection proved to be a great expense and was closed in 1908, being, in the opinion of the present vicar of St. Paul's, no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was built. In 1909, after prolonged opposition on the part of Rev. E. F. B. Weber, one of the trustees, it was sold. Since then it has stood empty and in disrepair, until the grotesque tragedy of its present usage occurred.—The Churchman.

Tons of Iron Lost in Rust.

One large railroad system suffers a loss of more than eighteen tons of metal daily, due solely to the effect of rust. Thus far the only known preventive is to keep the metal surface always covered with a suitable paint. Some idea of the costliness of this remedy, however, may be gained from the fact that it requires about $10,000 annually to paint one large railway bridge alone. A typical case of this kind is the Brooklyn bridge, upon which a corps of painters are constantly employed, as the weather makes repainting of one end of this large structure necessary before the workers have reached the other. Although experiments have demonstrated that pure iron surrounded by oxygen does not rust, and that some acid, especialy carbonic acid, is necessary for the production of rust, the secret of manufacturing rustless steel and iron remains to be discovered.

Lasting Joke.

How long will a good joke last? Who can tell? You have heard that one about the good sleighing in Canada, and how by putting on a pair of pajamas and sitting on a cake of ice before an open window and ringing a bell one can get the same effect, and much cheaper. Billy Emerson, the minstrel, originated that one over thirty-five years ago, and it is one that has never run down. DeWolf Hopper began to use it in his curtain speeches eleven years ago, and ever since, eight times a week forty weeks a season, he has used it and it has never failed to get a laugh. Always there are some in the audience who never heard it. Hopper figures that with the addition of a few score times at private functions he has "sprung" the chestnut 8,763 times. It is his one best bet, he says, and expects to use it as long as he is in public life.

$20 Gold Pieces a Quarter Each.

When five boys commenced to sell $10 and $20 gold pieces on the streets of North Scranton for 25 cents each, with the supply apparently unlimited, curiosity was at once aroused as to the source of supply, and the boys were taken into custody and given the "third degree." When searched the youths' pockets produced over $500 in gold coin and when questioned they admitted that they had found a "pot of gold."

The money was buried in a box in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by Peter J. Scanlon, who during his lifetime had the reputation of being a miser. There were $620 in shiny gold pieces in the box. The boys, none of whom was over eight years of age, thought they were brass medals and sold about twenty of them before being arrested.—Scranton (Pa.) Dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

RESTORED INN OF AUERBAC

Tavern Where Goethe Placed One Scenes in "Faust" Has Been Reconstructed.

The latest concrete evidence of literary devotion in Germany is t thorough reconstruction of the "Ts ern of Auerbach," where Goethe pl ed one of the most vivid scenes "Faust." It is melancholy to rele that nothing more remains of the o building, since after a complete d molition the architects have constru ed a wholly modern building on t site, but care has been taken to p serve intact the cellar, which h been for fully a century an object pilgrimage for Germans, who are once proud of their literature and fo of recherche drinking.

Painters of an "advanced" scho have been commissioned to adorn t walls of the various dining rooms wi scenes taken from Goethe's gre drama, while to complete the new t traditions it is announced that t staircase leading down to the cell will be furnished with two bron statues, the subject of which is u known. The evolution of the "Tave of Auerbach" promises to be the san as that of other like sacred places. will probably bring in an excellent i come to the restaurateur.

Ozone as a Preservative.

An important improvement in t technique of cold storage has recent been introduced in Germany, viz., t use of ozone as a supplement to t ordinary process of refrigeration. I the cold storage rooms attached t slaughter houses the temperature the air is liable to be raised to a ser ous exten when the doors are le open for any reason; for instanc when meat is being put in or take out. The micro-organisms of putr faction immediately become active u der such circumstances, and t keeping quality of the meat is dimi ished. Now it is well known th ozone is a powerful germicide. If t air of the cold-storage rooms is ozo ized, its temperature may be raise without injury to the contents. Th has been proved by numerous exper ments, and ozonizing apparatus ha now been installed in the abatoi at Cologne, Potsdam, Brandenbur Berlin, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Du sseldorf, Freiburg (Silesia), Aix-l Chapelle and Erfurt; in a cold sto age depot at Hamburg, and in va ous dairies, poultry and game stor and fish establishments.

To Put Out Oil-Fires.

Two Danish inventors have fou a way to put out oil fires by applyi carbonic acid that is foaming v lently. The foam is produced by mixture of two liquids, and it is s that when it is thrown on burning su stances, such as oils, benzine and t it spreads rapidly over the surface, a puts out the flames by cutting off t air. Many tanks that contain oil other highly inflammable liquids a now permanently fitted with perfora ed pipes, through which the foam ing mixture can be applied direct to the surface of the burning mat rial. Hitherto fires in oil tanks ha been allowed to burn themselves ou or the contents have been drawn o from below and wasted. Accordin to Chambers Journal many privat and government institutions hav adopted the new system.

WAITING ON THE CAR AT THE CURB SURELY HAS ITS DRAWBACKS

Waiting on the curb for the car has its drawbacks, especially for a weary, spifflicated individual. It is [illegible] the reason a couple from Monessen found themselves in the police station Monday night. These workmen in Monessen mills came here to celebrate. Both were pretty well dressed and both got pretty well soused. They sat on the curb to await the arrival of a Monessen car and had the misfortune to drop into a deep sleep. Along came the police and garnered them in. Later the burgess assessed nominal fines. The names are not given.

MOVING DAY NOT FOR WIFE ASSERTS THIS ACCUSED MAN

William Cooper of Maple Creek, near Charleroi was before the court Monday on a charge of desertion. He admitted he had left his wife, but said he did so after she had ordered him out of the house. He told the court he had rented a house at Speers, but she refused to move there. He later rented a house at Donora and she would not move there. According to his story the trouble is all with the wife. They have five children.
